Butter!

We are now receiving the celebrated "Keene Creamery" Butter in 1/2 lb cakes, 5 and 10 lb boxes, and 25 lb tubs. Our patrons who for the past year were supplied with it and who thought it better than any can be accommodated. (We have from two other creameries.) We are sole agents for its sale in New Haven.

Flour!

We offer a car of the "Flour King." It is from old wheat, and the best all around Flour we ever sold. We alone handle this brand in New Haven.

Entertainments.
HYPERION.
Sol. Smith Russell and his company gave two delightful performances at the Hyperion Saturday. The evening audience was a striking tribute to Mr. Russell's ability and genius, the big house being filled despite the pouring drenching rain storm. Mr. Russell is assuredly one of America's leading actors, as his work on Saturday well demonstrated.

Joseph Hart, late of Hallen & Hart, will present his new comedy, "A Gay Old Boy" this evening. The plot deals with a widower who can only inherit his deceased wife's money on condition that he does not re-marry within two years after his wife's death. Unfortunately the old gentleman falls madly in love with a high kicking artist from France, and he marries her, and the rest of the play is devoted to exploiting the efforts of the silly old man to conceal the fact of his marriage. The bride is compelled to appear as a chambermaid for the purpose of deceiving her step-daughters, and the arrival of a German physician who has known the lady in Paris, adds further complications. Mr. Hart, as the victim, has a happy role. His supporting company includes Carrie DeMar, the charming soubrette; Will H. Sloan, who plays the German physician, and Flora Irwin of the Irwin sisters. The play is very amusing, and the specialties are extremely good.

Sale of seats now open. Price $1, 75c. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the Duff opera company will be seen in the romantic comedy opera, "Leonardo," written by T. Parnell Thorne, class of '92, Yale S. S. The cast will be as follows: Leonardo, George A. Devill; Angelo, Grant Odell; Marco, Albert McGuckin; Cecelia, Virginia Earl; Duke Ludovica, Herbert Smock; Lady Beatrice, Margaret Lemon; Lucetta, Coutil; Lucille Saunders; Fra Patchell, J. H. Byles; Andrea, Joe Welser; Maria, Tessa; Loreta, and Francesca, four models; Laura Campbell, Winifred Williams, Edith Griffith, Ethel Laurie; Giovanni, Mr. Wilson; Bruno, Mr. A. Adamini. Sale of seats now open. Prices, $1.50, $1.

"Sowing the Wind" with Mary Hampton as Rosanna, returns on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee. Sale of seats opens Wednesday. Prices $1, 75c.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
The attraction the first three nights of this week is the famous Rentz-Santley Novelty and Burlesque company in one of the biggest and best programs they have ever presented in this city. Everything is new and up-to-date. One of the most interesting items among the lively proceedings is an amusing burlesque entitled the "Trill Be Club," which is a striking parody and a satire on the ranging sensation of the legitimate "Trill." Another fresh feature that will serve to grandly introduce the talent and beauty of this organization is the burlesque, "Robin Hood, Jr.," replete with pretty and shapely ladies, bright music, witty dialogue, laughable incidents, sensational episodes, gorgeous costumes and other conducive to an evening of pleasure. A new series of "living pictures" will show the perfection of art in individual posing and grouping, and the splendid array of specialty artists who will take part in the entertainment will include such well known performers as Collins and Collins, Edith LaMonte, Leslie and Teneley, May Ashbourne, Van Lee and Barton, Lottie Elliott, Clara Simpson and others. Matinees Tuesday and Wednesday. Prices 10c, 20c, 25c.

"Lost in New York" will be presented the last three nights of this week. Matinee Friday and Saturday.

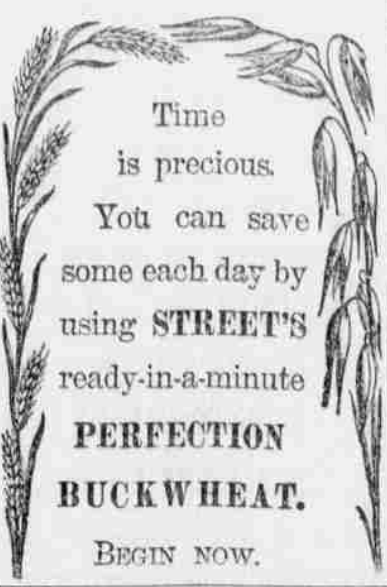

POLL'S WONDERLAND THEATER.
Following his regular policy of putting in the greatest stars of the vaudeville profession at his Wonderland theater, Mr. Poll announces this week the appearance of Miss Adele Purvie Onrl, the noted queen of the air, who has been making such a great sensation in New York and Boston. Miss Onrl performs the most sensational feats on a tiny strand of swaying wire, among other things executing a serpentine dance, which is the very height of sensationalism. She also gives a splendid exhibition on the rolling globe. To support her Mr. Poll has engaged a great company of sensational and comedy artists, including Totoli and Abachi, Baldwin and Daly, Tom and Little English, George and Della Dunbar, the Helena sisters, Gus and Frankie Daly, and John and Lulu Deagan. Performance afternoon and evening, and ladies admitted to all parts of the house for ten cents.
